

Tuesday 30th January 2018, Kellogg College, Oxford

Supporting Historic High Streets:
The Ingredients for Success in the 21st Century - Part I

- 9.30am Meet at Kellogg College for optional visit to area around Oxford's new Westgate shopping centre
- 11.15am Tea and coffee on arrival
- 11.30am Welcome and introduction, Louise Thomas, HTVF Director
- 11.45pm Managing Oxford city centre – discussion session, Laurie Taylor, Oxford City Centre Manager
- 12.15pm Is the High Street really dead or dying? Jonathan Burnett, Springboard Research Ltd
- 12.45pm Q&A
- 1pm Lunch
- 1.45pm Enabling town centres to adapt to change, John Parmiter, Future High Streets
- 2.15pm Understanding local urban character and planning for intensification, Jane Manning, Allies and Morrison Urban Practitioners
- 2.45pm What can a Business Improvement District (BID) do? Catherine Turness, Executive Director, Winchester BID
- 3.15pm Q&A followed by tea and coffee
- 3.45pm The Community Value of Markets, Professor Sophie Watson, Open University
- 4.15pm Age-friendly Town Centres, Louise Thomas, Director, HTVF
- 4.45pm Regenerating Hillingdon's High Streets, Councillor Douglas Mills, Cabinet Member for Regeneration, and Councillor Susan O'Brien, Town Centre Programme Adviser, London Borough of Hillingdon
- 5.15pm Q&A and seminar close